Three types of tissue
repair in one product!

ReFoam™ is an innovative foam scaffold for treating periodontal disease

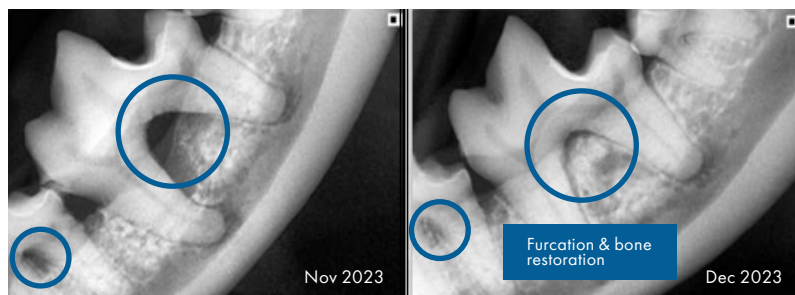

- Our solution provides an innovative solution to an unmet need with a prevalence of 40-70% in adults over 30 y/o.
- Remarkable clinical and commercial outcomes recorded with our veterinary dental product, which provides a robust POC for the development of the human product.

ReFoam™: Competitors targeting periodontal disease have failed to meet market needs, capturing only 0.5% of the $24B TAM despite being in the market for over a decade. Unlike competitors, ReFoam™ uniquely treating both bone and soft tissue, restoring the entire structure of the jaw, positioning it as the superior solution in this space.

Proven success: The success of our veterinary products validates the efficacy and safety of our technology, laying a strong foundation for our innovative human applications and facilitating the regulatory approval pathway. We are currently seeking a strategic business partners for our human product line.
